

Item	Degree
	Unremarkable	Not particularly remarkable	Remarkable	Quite remarkable
18. is in the habit of doing things ritualistically and compulsively
19. has a peculiar way of moving his/her hand(s) and body and/or repeats the movements
20. hold up his/her hand(s) and/or moves the fingers, and stares at them
21. casts a weird look at a person or things
22. behaves as if he /she were hard of hearing
23. shows his/her displeasure at certain sounds by covering his/her ears with his/her hands
24. does not seek attention when obviously in pain
25. engages in some form of self-injurious behavior such as hitting self
26. gives offense to other persons by pushing, hitting and pinching
27. starts destructive actions like throwing and striking things.
28. bursts out laughing or crying, or gets into tantrums out of the blue
29. develops sleep disorder including circadian rhythm sleep disturbance
30. goes out without telling anyone in his/her family
31. looks like he/she does not understand the norms of behavior in society; entering other persons' houses without permission is just a case in point
32. looks apathetic and dependent
33. is fastidious about his/her food
34. is in the habit of sniffing
35. is hyperactive and restless
36. does not engage in pretend play and mimicking while engaging in social exchange
37. goes to the bathroom frequently
38. has poor powers of concentration with his/her attention always wandering (is unable to concentrate his/her attention)
39. is rebellious
40. is clumsy at doing handiwork and awkward in movements

41	occasionally gets depressed and/or excited
42	is distressed to hear what others are saying and to see what others are doing
43	repeats rapid movements, e.g., blinking
44	comes to a sudden halt and assumes bizarre postures
45	is easily worried and frightened

When you regarded the degree of problems as "remarkable" and "quite remarkable," please write about the problems more specifically item by item

Japanese Association of Ohta's Stage Research

Office: Institute for Development of Mind and Behavior

2-12-9-101 Nishiogi-kita, Suginami-ku, Tokyo, 167-0042, Japan

Mail: ohta-stage@nifty.com

Tel & Fax ; +81-3-5926-4711